Proposal Legend

Our proposals are made of a few different elements and sections that together help organize and present equipment, designs, options, and other parts of our proposal. Below are a few of those sections and what they contain.

- Proposal Summary: Financial Summary of the base proposal
- Executive Summary/Scope: Outlines the scope of the project
- Rooms: Different spaces that AV equipment or design will be happening in (I.E: Worship Center)
- Systems: Groups of solutions based on what it accomplishes (IE, Sounds system, video system, etc.)
- Options: Attached to a room, can have different systems, but is a totally separate optional group of solutions
- Attachments: Documents that are applicable to the design or device specifications.

All Together

This is all read by starting with the financial summary, then the executive summary, then the first large room. The first room will say at the top of the page in the black bar, and then systems and options within that room will follow with headings above each. Then if applicable there will be other rooms to follow with their own system and option headings as well. At the very bottom is the acceptance page where there is: payment schedule, cost overview, terms and conditions, and signature acceptance. If applicable attachments will then be at the very end.
